

Aaron Jeng

Head of Taiwan Research & Technology - Semiconductors
Research, Nomura

Aaron joined Nomura in 2010 and has 14 years' technology research experience. He is the lead sector analyst for Greater China semiconductor research and Head of Taiwan equity research. Aaron's often contrarian structural approach to research has made him an opinion leader in the Greater China semiconductor space. Aaron was ranked the #3 technology semiconductor analyst in Institutional Investors' 2016 All-Asia research team survey
