

Mr. David Wong

Head of APAC Technology Research
Nomura

David joined Nomura in Singapore in July 2021, after a year with Instinet/Nomura in New York. Prior to this he was at Wells Fargo (where he was ranked runner-up for semiconductors on the Institutional Investor AllAmerica Research in multiple years), UBS/PaineWebber, Needham and Merrill Lynch on the sell-side, and State Street Research on the buy side. Before moving to the financial industry, he worked as an engineer at Cypress Semiconductor. David has a BA degree from Cambridge University and a Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering from Carnegie-Mellon University.
