

Yujiro Goto

Managing Director, Chief FX Strategist
Nomura

Yujiro Goto is a researcher and strategist covering the G10 currency markets. He joined Nomura Research Institute in 2002, transferred to Nomura Securities in 2004, and from 2011 onward worked abroad, primarily in the role of providing information and analysis to non-Japanese investors. He spent more than eight years in total in New York and London, where he developed USD/JPY trading strategies for non-Japanese hedge funds in particular. While abroad, he also provided his clients with analysis of capital flows in the US, Europe, and Japan, as well as analysis of Japanese and European monetary policy and macroeconomics. He then returned to Japan and took up his current position in August 2019. He received his master's degree in Business Administration from the University of Chicago in 2010 and his bachelor's degree in Economics from Keio University in 2002.
