

Rig Karkhanis

Senior Managing Director
Deputy Head of Global Markets
Head of Global Markets, Asia ex-Japan

Rig Karkhanis was appointed Senior Managing Director in April 2017. He is Deputy Head of Global Markets and Head of Global Markets, Asia ex-Japan.

Prior to his current role, Rig was Head of Global Markets, Asia ex-Japan, Chair of the Global Emerging Markets Executive Committee and Global Head of FX and Emerging Markets with responsibilities for further enhancing Nomura's Global Markets business in the region and driving synergies across all regions for EM products.

Rig joined Nomura in September 2010 from Millennium Partners, Singapore, where he was a Portfolio Manager. Prior to that, he was Head of Rates and Currencies Sales & Trading, Asia Pacific Rim, at Merrill Lynch. Rig began his career in Deutsche Bank where he spent 10 years in Europe and Asia in various FX options trading roles.

He holds a MA in Mathematics from the University of Cambridge.