

Andrew Bowley

Wholesale Governance Officer
Nomura

Wholesale Division governance including executive committee, board level oversight of investments and partnerships, support for oversight of the Instinet franchise, and Nomura's algorithmic trading capabilities and digital initiatives.

Deputy Chair and co-ordinator of Nomura's Wholesale Sustainability Forum, setting the business strategy and leading initiatives to adapt the business to the developments of Sustainable Finance and the challenges and opportunities of climate change.

Previously Head of Global Markets Regulatory Response at Nomura, responsible for overseeing assessments, impacts, future business model, product mix and strategies under the evolving global regulatory landscape. Nomura's senior Subject Matter Expert (SME) on MiFID II, leading the business themes, internal programme structure and requirements development. Responsible for the Global Markets electronic trading unit, encompassing support for electronic trading services, Market Structure evolution across regulations, and interactions with industry groups, market infrastructures and regulators.