

Max Burda

Head of ESG & Responsible Investment
AIMA

Max is an Associate on the Markets, Governance and Innovation team at AIMA, where he specialises in the implementation of responsible investment. Working with alternative investment managers, investors, and investment consultants, Max has written a series of guides on responsible investment and alternative investment management, most recently on the use of short selling to hedge against ESG risks.

Prior to joining AIMA, Max worked in strategy consulting in London. He holds a Master's degree from the London School of Economics and Political Science