

Mr. Eric Gnock Fah

Chief Operating Officer & Co-Founder, Klook

Eric is the Chief Operating Officer and Co-Founder of Klook, Asia's leading platform for experiences and travel services.

Founded in 2014, Klook inspires and enables more moments of joy for travelers with over half a million curated quality experiences ranging from the biggest attractions to paragliding adventures, iconic museums to rich cultural tours, and other convenient local travel services across 2,700 destinations around the world.

Eric's visionary leadership has fueled Klook's remarkable growth, diversifying its product offerings and pioneering marketing innovation, resulting in global popularity. This remarkable journey has garnered support and investments from an esteemed bench of renowned investors including Sequoia Capital, Matrix Partners, Softbank, Aspex, Goldman Sachs, TCV, and more.

Eric has also been instrumental in establishing partnerships with key travel players from Universal Studios and Hong Kong Mass Transit Railway Corporation (MTR) to Japan National Tourism Organization, Hong Kong Tourism Board, Singapore Tourism Board, and many more.

A Mauritius native and educated in the United States, Eric is an avid explorer with a multicultural upbringing that taught him to speak seven languages. He was featured on Forbes 30 Under 30 Asia 2017 List and China's Yicai (CBN) Brilliant 20 List, recognizing his entrepreneurial spirit and game-changing attitude. Prior to co-founding Klook, Eric worked in finance at a global investment bank in Hong Kong.
