

Jizhou Dong

HK/China Consumer Analyst, Nomura

Jizhou joined Nomura in 2021 and has led the coverage of China consumer space, including sportswear, new retail, beverages & catering, and home appliances. Before joining Nomura, Jizhou was head of China property and value chain research at Huatai Hong Kong; his team was ranked No. 1 during 2019-20 and 2020-21 in the Institutional Investor All-China Research survey. Jizhou used to cover China equity strategy and China property with Goldman Sachs and Credit Suisse for over ten years.

Jizhou holds an MBA degree from the University of Chicago Booth School of Business and a bachelor degree in economics and finance from the University of Hong Kong.